

Spa to honor military service
Jul. 26, 2007

By Amy Fuhrman
afuhrman@navigatethelake.com

Around the nation, there are a growing number of stories of those who have sacrificed to serve their country. And here in Lake Norman is no exception.

“We’ve got some great responses,” said Bhupesh Patel, owner of Yuvan Medspa in Cornelius. “Their stories are very compelling.”

Patel is sponsoring the “Stand up and Salute” contest at the spa to honor those who have served in the military and their families. There is still a week left to nominate someone to receive a package of services, including a facial, microdermabrasion treatment and 60-minute massage.

“We want to give back to the community and the military,” he said. “This is something that can relax them.

So far, Patel said response to the contest has been good.

“A lot of people in our community have a spouse, a father or son or daughter in the military or know someone who is well-deserving,” he said. “Anyone can come in and nominate a candidate who has served our country.”

To enter the contest or for more details, visit Yuvan online at <http://www.yuvanmedspa.com> or call 704-655-7447. The winner will be announced on Aug. 8.